Guam Commercial Port Improvement Project – Black Construction Wins Eagle Award

National Excellence in Construction Competition awards Black Construction the Eagle Award for the GCPI Project – Facility Expansion

Piti, Guam, June 5, 2016: Back in December 2015, the Port Authority of Guam (PAG) held a ribbon cutting ceremony for its Facility Expansion project, the third and final phase of the Guam Commercial Port Improvement Project. The project was completed through a collaboration effort between MARAD, EA Engineering Science & Technology, and Black Construction Corporation.

Black Construction submitted the GCPI Facility Expansion Project to the National Excellence in Construction competition and subsequently was the recipient of the Eagle Award. The Eagle Award is the highest honor given in each category of the competition where entries are submitted from across the nation.

The Excellence in Construction Awards program is the industry's leading competition, developed to honor both general and specialty contractors for innovative and high-quality merit shop construction projects. Black Construction was the prime contractor for the project.

Black Construction will be presenting the Port Authority of Guam with the Eagle Award. The presentation is scheduled for Monday, June 6, 2016 at 10:00 a.m., Port Command Center, Port Authority of Guam, Piti.
